

R.J. Burnside & Associates Limited selects Deltek Vision® along with Kennedy Vomberg as implementation partner after extensive review

Toronto, Canada – July 28, 2009 – R.J. Burnside & Associates Limited, a progressive, multi-disciplinary engineering firm of over 300 employees, has selected Deltek Vision after completing a full RFP and evaluation process involving 8 software companies. For Burnside's selection committee, the extensive review confirmed the value of investing in an industry specific solution built for the professional services industry as compared to the broader-based ERP (enterprise resource planning) solutions marketed to multiple industry sectors.

"We definitely learned a great deal during this entire process," said David Christiansen, Corporate Business Manager. "We're making a considerable business investment to support our growth and business strategy for the next decade and beyond, so we took the time to review a number of project-based offerings from a variety of software companies. Deltek Vision's breadth and depth of functionality and integration was, for our business, clearly superior to the other products we explored. This, coupled with the support of a strong implementation team that includes Deltek and local business partner Kennedy Vomberg, helped guide the evaluation to its logical conclusion."

"Having the opportunity to work with a firm of the stature of Burnside is definitely a great testament to the power and versatility of Vision," said Don Kennedy, Principal of Kennedy Vomberg. "We're looking forward to helping the Burnside management team leverage the technology to improve business performance, streamline operations, and ultimately win more business."

About R. J Burnside & Associates Limited

During the last 40 years Burnside has progressively developed core skills in infrastructure engineering and environmental consulting as well as an excellent customer service culture. As such, Burnside is an established and recognized provider of quality services to an expanding number of clients. In addition to the capabilities of conventional civil engineering disciplines, Burnside has specialized technical skills in various technical fields including energy efficiency, solid waste management, environmental impact assessment, site remediation, satellite remote sensing, transport engineering, hydrogeology, agriculture and water resources. Burnside offers extensive project experience in water supply development, treatment and distribution, sewage collection and treatment, roads and bridges and associated structures such as reservoirs, landfills, water and wastewater treatment plants, and land development.

The company provides services to a wide range of clients in both the private and public sectors including land developers, private businesses and all levels of government. Burnside also works with First Nations communities across Canada and this has provided a unique understanding of the needs and challenges in working with under-serviced and culturally sensitive areas. This experience, coupled with the firm's technical strengths, has contributed significantly to Burnside's numerous successes in securing international assignments and positioning for a number of strategic markets, particularly in Sub-Saharan Africa and the Caribbean.
